What's this? It looks like a group of thugs or perverts hanging around the Oriental Theatre

What Degenerates!

What Fags!

These fools should be arrested.

What Geeks would let themselves be seen in front of the Art Film Center, let alone allow themselves to be photographed?

The Senior Class Officers, that's who! Dave 'Meinez' Meiners: President, Ricky 'Bosco' Nikkel: Secretary, Jim 'Kansas Komet' Meurer: Treasurer, John 'Sow' Sauer: Vice-President.

RANGER DAY 1972

Ranger Day began slowly and uncertainly with grey skies, but with the arrival of the beer, things began to brighten up. By noon, in spite of the weather, all respectable Rangers were engaged in such worthwhile activities as attempting to wield control over the ever-elusive push ball, trying their luck at various games of chance, adding to their euphoria by riding the ferris wheel, driving a '59 Chevy through the back fence of O'Connell, or just concentrating solely on keeping their Ranger mugs filled with beer. An outdoor concert featuring Mike Williams, Magic Music, and Jim and Bonnie Malatchi was planned but due to rain and hail, was moved to the student center lounge. Your Father's Mustache entertained in their usual enthusiastic ragtime style during dinner and were joined not shyly by the student body. After dinner most students succumbed to the call of the rack monster for an hour or so before rallying for the climax of the day, a dance in the cafeteria with music provided by Zulu.

Wild Bill

I'll write off that wine as an R-Day expense.

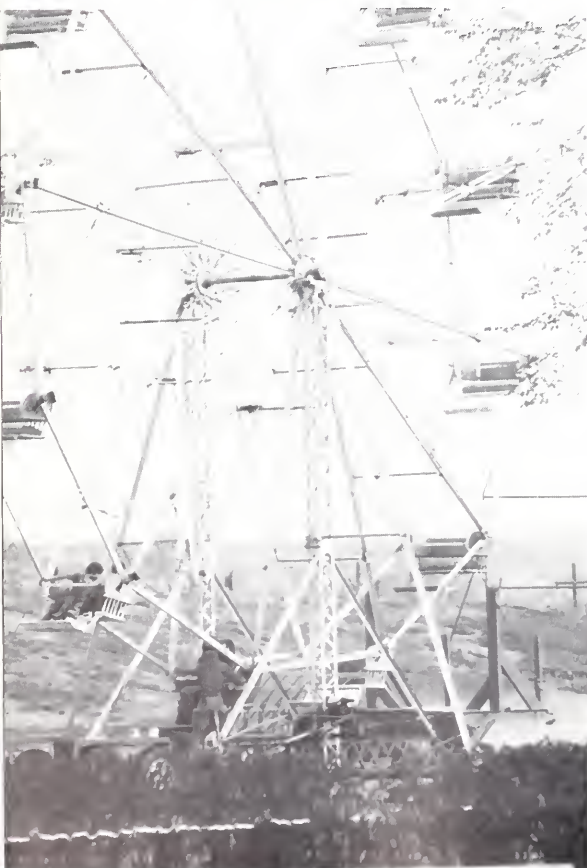

Not so loud, the president is behind us

I really should be home studying.

This fire engine burns me out.

EROTICA!

Margaret Dunn with Bookie in his usual form

Eastwood, Clint Eastwood. Why?

Hoosier and Laddie

Pat Dolan and Denny Doherty knock down the suds behind the Schlitz truck.

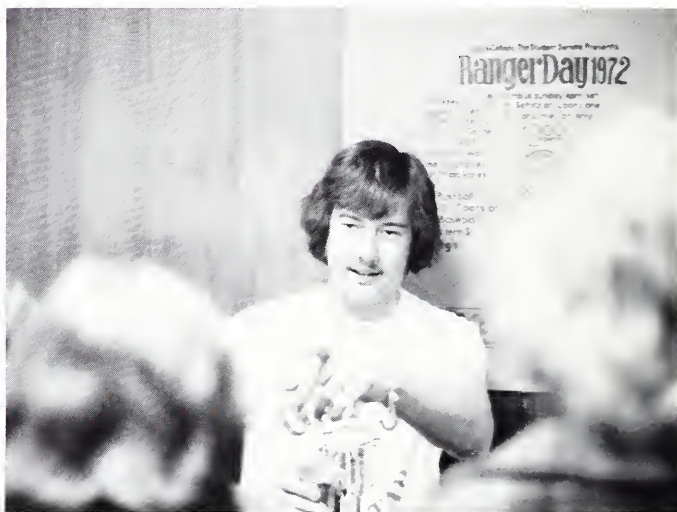

Ever gotten GOOSED in public?

Everything you wanted to know about sex

My jaguar is really a Topel Kadet.

You say you're from O'Neill, well I have a special deal for you.

Here comes your ride to the soccer game, Paul.

Everyone comes out for the Ranger Day festivities.

but were afraid to ask

I was duped into doing this.

On three, hit Father Clarke. We can't miss

Bozo babbles bloated by beer.

If you spit on me once more, Hainje, I'm going to put you in Aurora!

FRESHMEN ORIENTATION AND WOODSIE

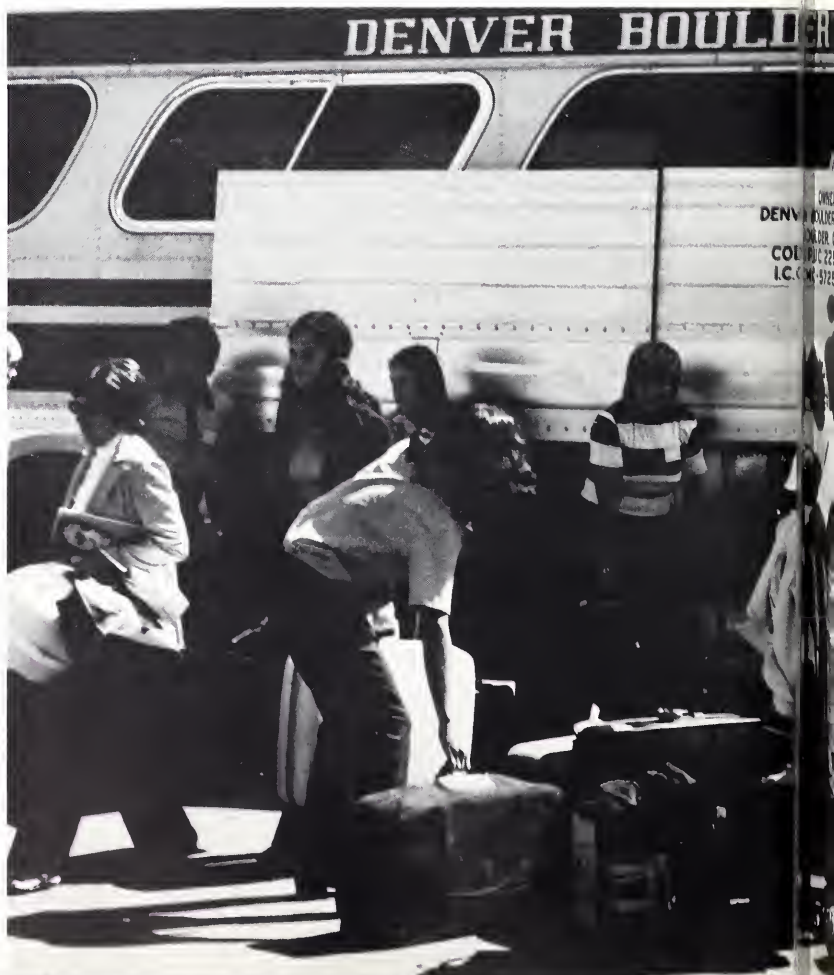

Dollar a kiss

Frosh enjoy beer and snacks at Gennesee Park

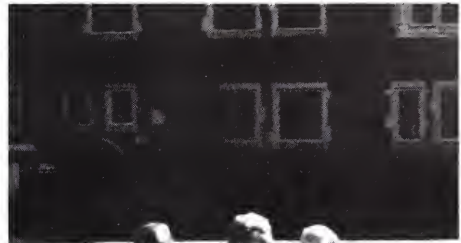

You call this food?

Plans begun in early spring coming to fruition,
 Freshmen settling in, getting to know their roommates,
 Campus coming alive,
 Testing, talking, listening, questioning,
 Upperclassmen girl-watching,
 Freshmen girls asking, "Will I be asked out?"
 Picnicking with the faculty,
 Braving the rides at Elitch's,
 Working out a schedule,
 Dancing and partying until dawn,
 "Making friends, for the world to see . . .
 if your friends are there,
 then everythin's all right."

The better side of Simba in action

And this is where the bar is, daddy.

Welcome to the Regis campus, friend. I think you'll like it here so stay away from the Boulder campus.

Darrell Porter tries the fried chicken.

Bill, Chris, Butch, Janie, Pat, and Norton feast on the picnic provided by ARA.

Alright, everyone look to your left. C'mon Cindy.

Patty, get your hand outta there!

Here's a shot of Mark and Kath . . . oops!

Jose, where are you?

L to R: Apple, Mary, Baum, Mike, Billy Goat, and Stump.

Penny, do you mind if I dance with Bill?

Oh Jimmy-cakes, you say the funniest things.

This way the band only sounds half as bad.

Are you kidding? I'd NEVER go out with Smellrod! My date looks like Mark Spitz. He's with Katie now.

Sudie and Bill Kelly (looks like he's had a few) enjoy Frolic festivities.

C'mon Jim, let's go back to your room and frolic.

FRESHMEN FROLIC

September 23 marked the traditional Freshmen Frolic. Once again the festival was held at the '72 Supper Club (a fashionable edifice of status?). The music, or shall we say, the noise was provided by The Second Childhood. Fr. Clarke, Fr. Casey, and L. Morgan Lavin were just a few of the Ranch celebrities who arrived for the affair. It should be noted that most of the upperclassmen, as usual, mobbed around the bar and spent most of their evening there.

Don't laugh. I swear I pitched 200 innings of scoreless ball in the American Legion.

STUDENT CENTER SNACK BAR

Playboy Bunny Kiki Gleeson, taking five in the snack bar.

Pass it on.

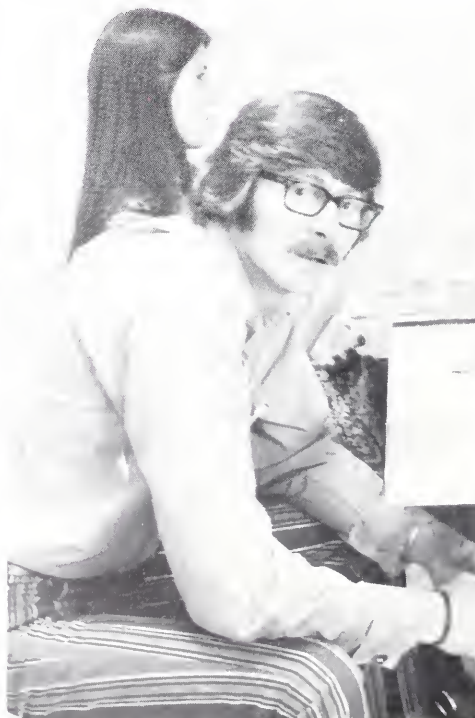

Snack Bar-Brownbagger's pit stop.

Look at the size of that ANT!!

I heard about the Texan that was so tall that they couldn't find a coffin large enough, so they gave him an enema and buried him in a shoebox.

Silent but Deadly.

Man, am I cool!

AH YES, THE REGIS CAFETERIA

Done! Now I'm gonna toss my cookies

I never saw THIS in Honolulu.

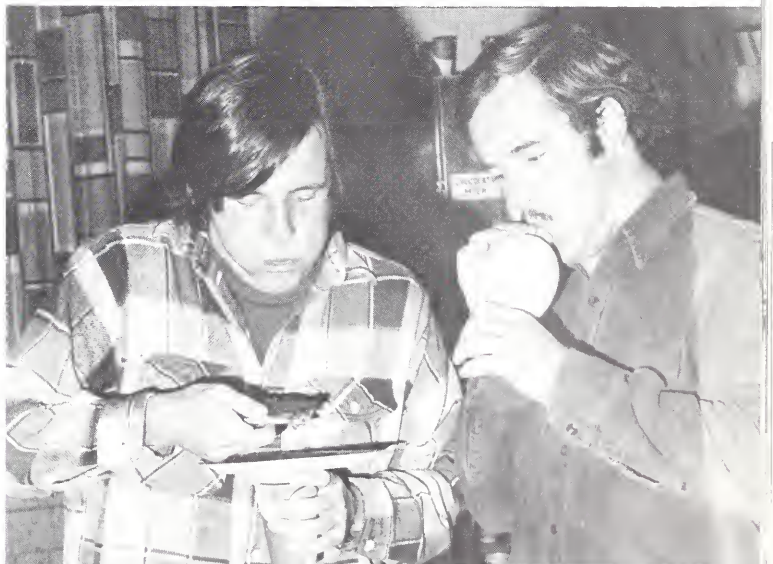

I saw the cooks carrying their lunchboxes today.

This tastes like it was boiled in sweat.

It's either a toenail or a piece of glass in my pudding. I hope it's the latter.

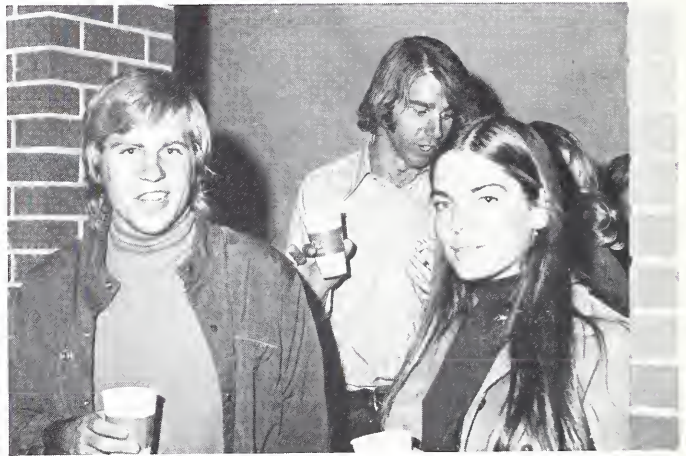

Even the air in here is bad. That's why I brought my own.

OCTOBERFEST

True to form, all fun-loving Rangers made a full force opening night debut at Denver's week long celebration of this age old German beer and food bacchanal. For a while, Rangers wandered the Mardi Gras-like streets of Larimer Square in groups of twos and threes, but suddenly they found each other and soon the area surrounding the bandstand was filled with Regis revelers. The crowd moved back and watched in awe as Larimer Street was transformed into a dancing, singing, laughing simulation of the Ranch. This infectious spirit of uninhibited jubilation soon spread to the band and at one point the musicians even stopped what tune they were playing and struck up a vigorous round of the Beer Barrel Polka in order to conform to the overpowering choruses of "Bring Home the Turkey." Old friendships were renewed and deepened and new friendships were formed as everyone tossed aside their inhibitions for a night and succumbed to the spirit of Oktoberfest.

I wonder if it's me or just posing for the shot?

You mean there's only one john down here?

Here we see two typical derelicts who spend most of their time drunk along the curbing, destined for a permanent life on the Larimer pavement.

Kiss me quick!

BELOW: Yeah Bill, it's still ticking.

So then I put the boot on this guy's Nova.

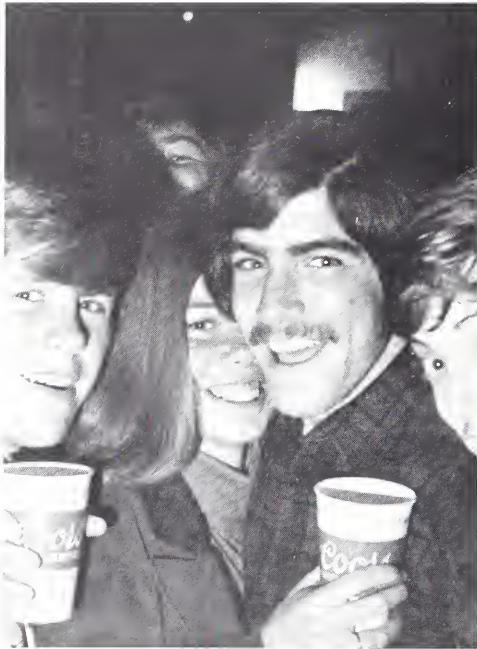

Find the mistake in this picture.

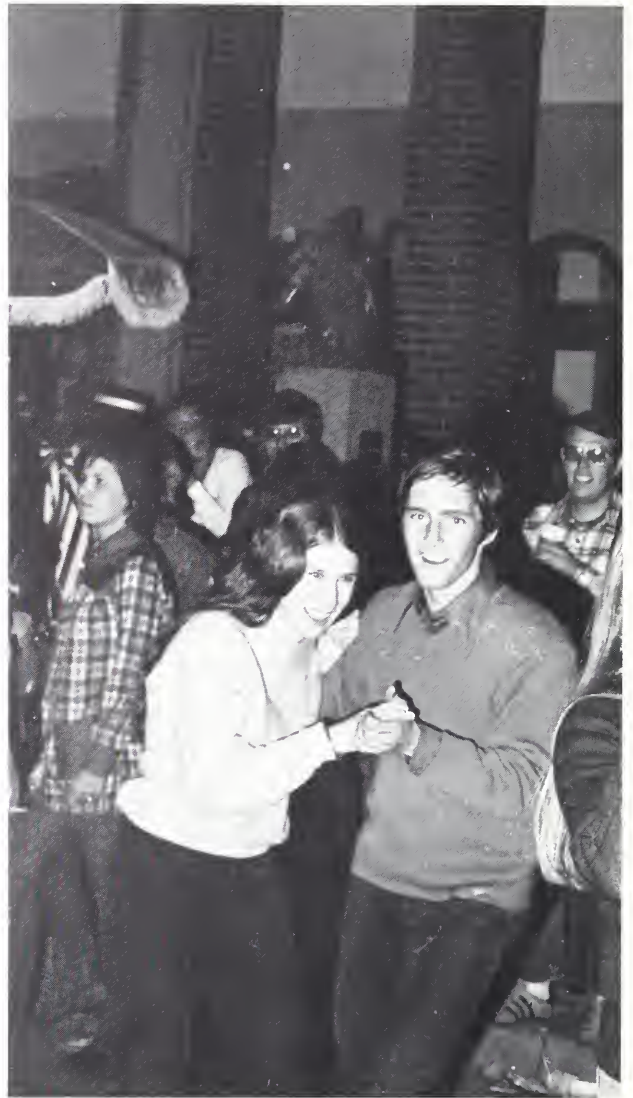

Hey, somebody likes me!

What's with the body guards, Margi?

1-2-3, 1-2-3,

Wilber, Paul, and Althea, take part in festivities.

You didn't have a mustache when we started out this evening.

Look at those CITZKAS!

I'm trying to grow my mustache, don't look.

Ohhh, Bunsie Baby!

Ranks and Peaker destined for the Larimer Life

Nancy and Wal . . . oops, sorry Joe.

Wanna see my Walnetta?

R. SARGENT SHRIVER

October fourth marked the on-again, off-again, on-again SRO appearance of Democratic Vice Presidential hopeful R. Sargent Shriver in the Fieldhouse. Shriver was preceded by folk singer Don Crawford and a series of slick appeals for donations. Finally the golden moment arrived and Shriver stepped triumphantly to the dias amid thunderous applause. The Republicans were subsequently rapped on the knuckles for everything from unemployment to inflation to welfare. Shriver finally struck a "coup d'etat" by mentioning that sore subject of why the United States is still in Vietnam. His style was cool and his wit was lightning fast as he attacked one after another of Nixon's policies, though he disappointed some of the audience by failing to offer any criticisms in a constructive vein.

Vice-presidential hopeful waves to supporters

Don Crawford provided entertainment for a crowd of five thousand in the fieldhouse.

Let me make one thing perfectly clear.

"I say that if John Connally and Nixon think that we have to have 5.5 percent unemployment, then I say let's add them to the ranks of the unemployed."

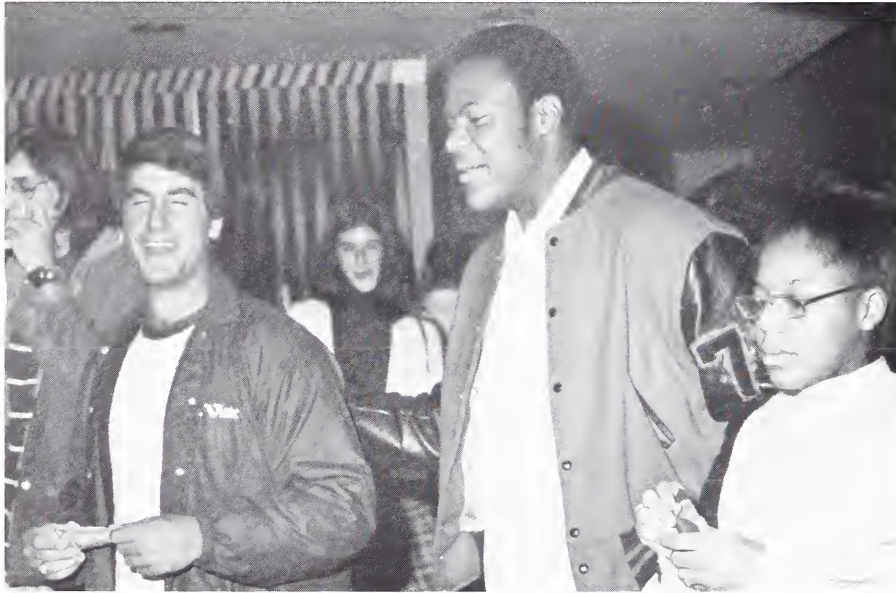

"What America needs is a man who's only got one image; he's an honest man, a sincere man. We're tired of a president with Madison Avenue false faces which change in every election. What we want is a man who's just one human being."

JUNIOR CLASS CARNIVAL

Posters heralded its coming for over a week, but few Rangers were prepared for the complete transformation of our cafeteria into a magical childhood world of the carnival. Foot long hotdogs, sno cones, cotton candy, bingo, chuck-a-luck . . . all provided a welcome relief from the usual dinner hour as well as much needed funds for the participating organizations.

Make mine an orange chocolate combination.

Yeah, sure I'm your friend, Moe.

Jean, there's enough money here for us to elope.

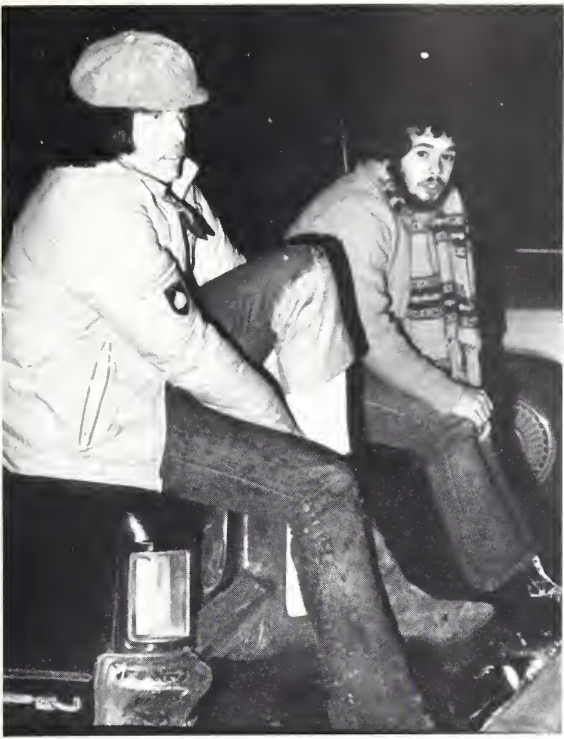

Nice date Breunig!

If Mom could only see me now.

RANCHERS BREAK FOR A JANUARY EVENING OF SKATING

I'm going to body check the hell out of somebody.

Either we all stay up or we all go down.

The Doublemint Twins

I'll meet you up in Rm. 201 for a lesson in heavy breathing.

I'm not falling for the old "Help your buddy up" joke again.

Let's really get this little kid drunk and obnoxious.

Hey, I'm glad we wore gloves Simba—it would be cold holding these beers.

RANCH SPENDS THANKSGIVING AT ASPEN

Holly is a joke isn't she?

The Chiefs are a good laugh, Komet.

Dave Foley and his "Don", Jimmy the Greek.

I'm Dick Schutte. I play middle linebacker for the Suns and I say, "don't mess with drugs. Why do you think they call it Dope."

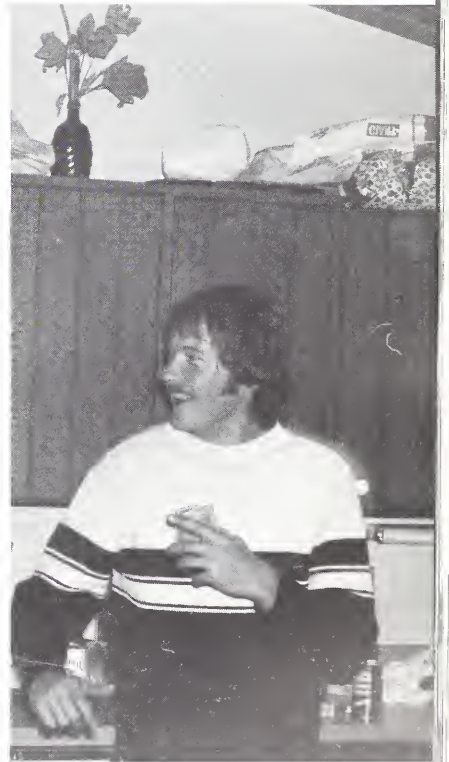

Roselli, how many times did you fall today? 25?

Kabassa!

I baptize thee in the name of the father . . .

Jean Claude Ewald

QUEEN OF 73 MARILYN OHLENDORF

MARILYN AND BOB 'PORKY' PFOTENHAUER

THE 1972 CORONATION BALL

On Dec. 8, Regis College held its annual Coronation Ball sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi. They attended in full form as they pushed the cash bar sales over 800 dollars. Despite the absolutely pitiful band, the ranch folk appeared to have a great time at the dance. The affair was held at the Wolhurst Club.

CARROLL HALL TRIAL

In a fantastic display of the American judicial system, a sage verdict and sentence was reached by the jury and Judge Frederick Richard Ferron in a delicate trial confronting the Grand Tribunal of the Carroll Hall Second Floor East Wing Auto Club (CHSFEWAC). Attornies Kevin McLaughlin and the infamous Gump Hanagan presented cases that would have rendered Abraham Lincoln, Clarence Darrow, and even Perry Mason pale and speechless. In the end though, justice triumphed as the unassuming and robust plaintiff, Timothy Tracy, was awarded with a conviction against the sly and scheming defendant, Ted Posselius alias Ebenezer Geezer. Yes, indeed there still is justice in the world. Hurrah!

NITTY GRITTY, PROCOL HARUM, AND THEN . . .

The Earl Scruggs Review

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, preceded by the Earl Scruggs Review, made their third hilarious appearance in the Regis Fieldhouse on October 29. Immediately dubbing themselves the Regis house band, the five members of this absolutely insane group treated us to an evening of music ranging from footstomping, down home tunes to rock and roll classics.

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band

Jeff Hanna and John McKuen of Nitty Gritty

Procol Harum

Music in a heavier vein was provided by Procol Harum on November 10. Backed up by an upcoming English ballad group, Steeleye Span, they played to an SRO crowd; to some, Procol Harum seemed to be merely jamming, and yet to many others, their music provided tremendous enjoyment. It should be mentioned that Steeleye Span put on a spectacular show.

AMERICA!

America performs as a crowd exceeding 3,500 listens attentively.

On Tuesday evening, January 23, Regis concert-goers were treated to a fine musical performance by America, one of the youngest groups ever to play in the Fieldhouse. The music of these three young musicians was polished and serious and the crowd responded to this new group accordingly. Unlike many groups, they were able to reproduce live the perfected studio sounds of both their albums. They were preceded on stage by an equally fine musician, John David Souther, whose country-rock acoustical guitar sounds had a special personal touch.

Lighting was effective and well done.

America did many cuts from their latest album.

WAPPADULA!

They said it would be potent and it was! The Little Sisters of AKPsi put on a Wappadula that couldn't be matched. With a potion composed of grain alcohol, vodka, punch and fruit juices, the Wappadula put people in a state of ecstatic activity. There was dancing, a square dance caller, lots of people, and above all, gallons of punch lightning. The girls of AKPsi did a fantastic job of putting up with the rowdiest crowd ever to pack the Potenza Hall basement.

Hi! I'm R. B.

Look out Rosso! Here comes Dink.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The General Assembly took concrete action this year in a number of different areas. With the help and guidance of the Chief Justice of the Judicial Board, Jim Watson, the G. A. performed its duties smoothly.

The G. A. members heard various committee reports and initiated action in one instance to stop the original Educational Objectives of Regis College, as drawn up by the Educational Planning Board, from going into effect, and worked with the Academic Dean and his committee to make the statement more realistic and meaningful in respect to the goals being pursued by Regis in the future.

Also, the G. A. approved the flying of a black liberation flag on campus, appropriated money for a railroad car to be brought on campus and used as a coffee house. The G. A. also had the finance committee, under the Treasures of the Exec. Board, Paul Milligan, prepare financial statements for the G. A. at every meeting and supported the Dorm Corp. bid for 24 hour open dorms.

Master of Ceremonies, Pat Cronan, otherwise known as Chairman of the General Assembly.

Shonsey was always cutting up at the meetings.

Gene Molloy pushes through Box Car Bill.

Edward Michael Gleeson III informs the G. A. of student enrollment.

The Little Sisters of Alpha Kappa Psi, the only all women's organization on campus, is run along similar lines as a sorority. They try to achieve unity and harmony among themselves by participating in various activities that are specifically for the organization. As well as taking an active part in the organization itself, the Little Sisters sponsor the annual Wappadula party, open to the entire school. They perform many services for the school that often times go unnoticed and are forgotten, but the lasting friendships that are formed are never forgotten.

Linked by the bonds of brotherhood as well as by the fact that most of the members are majoring in the natural sciences, the Brothers of Rho Chi Sigma strive to help each other in their scholastic endeavors, as well as in their social lives. Realizing their responsibility to the College and to the community, the Brothers yearly sponsor several events for the enjoyment of the entire Regis community, in addition to participating in many service projects simply as a helpful gesture to the College, but more, to the people of Denver. A prime example of this is their yearly Blood Bank Donor's day.

"Hey, Billy-Goat, can I use your keys to get into the darkroom?"
 "I haven't got them. Heinz does. No, Veatch does, or maybe Elrod or . . ."
 "Kasey, can you write some copy on Powder-puff football?"
 "But I don't know anything about it."
 "Well, there's 5 teams. Start from there."
 "Hey Daues, could you put down Elsner for just a minute? I need a page put on triplicate."
 "Let me cook a second more, OK?"
 "Good God! Jack, did that pizza come yet?"
 "Hell, who needs pizza with all this rot-gut Chablis?"
 "Yeah, you're right. Where is Tully anyway? This faculty section still isn't finished."
 "I think he went to get a six-pack."
 "WE'RE NEVER GOING TO MAKE THIS DEADLINE!"
 "Larry, do you think you can get the Sophomore Class Officers picture?"
 "I told them to be there last night but they blew me off."
 "That figures. What about the Swimming Team?"
 "Same story."
 "That figures."

The 1973 Ranger Staff. A handful of clutch hitters whose sole purpose was to cast aside the railroad ties and pipes of '72 and rejuvenate a traditional entity comprised of 256 pages of sweat, anger, heartbreak, and yet constructive new beauty. It's all about missing classes, committing suicide trying to meet deadlines, wasted week-ends in the office, broken typewriters, pictures that don't turn out, people that let you down. It's all about capturing jubilant moments that everyone else is experiencing. It's what is known as shooting for the moon and hitting the mountains. This is the '73 Ranger Staff. If this yearbook is worth something to you then it has been to them.

Wow! You can't even see the three girls behind Porky.

Well, this is nice but I don't think this guy is going to like his head cut off in this picture.

ANOTHER DEADLINE? YOU'RE KIDDING!

Rick Veatch Editor

In previous years the Brown and Gold had varied from the accepted forms of journalism. The 1972-73 academic year saw a return to those forms of journalism which are known and used by all publications. With writing, photography, and layout being emphasized where in the past it was not, the B&G was no longer simply a tool for the foolish desires of a few individuals. Laying the groundwork for future personnel was one of the major goals of this year's staff. Left with practically no help from the previous personnel involved in the paper, it was necessary to start from scratch. The major goal accomplished by this year's staff was the internal selection of the Editor. By selecting the Editor internally, it is hoped that a nucleus will develop from which the staff will draw giving the paper a substantial character. Another aspect of the paper that was neglected in previous years was the financial situation of the Brown and Gold. This year under sound managerial advice the paper was able to show an excess of funds that were provided by the Student Senate. It is hoped that the paper will no longer take on the character of a one year—one time situation. The ground work has been set for future personnel. It is hoped that a tradition has been started.

The play "Purlie Victorious" was successfully produced this year by John Greiss and Regis Theatre Guild. The play centered around Purlie, a Black, self-educated and enlightened preacher trying to bring freedom to his people. The play featured Ed Huey Jackson as Purlie, being backed superbly by other Regis regulars: Gil Johnson, Cathy Dixon, Stephani Atkinson, and Phil Volpi.

KRCR, REGIS COLLEGE RADIO 66

On October 16th, 1972 Regis College Radio 66 was re-born. In the past, KRCR was plagued with a lack of funding, technical difficulties, staff apathy, and a lack of direction. This year has been the year for growth, and direction finding.

KRCR became an operating radio station due to the enthusiasm of its General Manager Larry Carolla, its Business Manager Jack Forsyth, and a newly recruited staff of 25 students. The staff was taught on the air production techniques, traffic directing (or commercial scheduling), music directing, and management on a limited basis. The station sold advertising for the first time in three years and plans to continue this practice to earn funds for the station's operation, and to provide practical experience in sales for the salesmen.

This was the year of creativity for most of the new announcers, and for the old ones it was a year of polishing. Music was the basis for the station's format. The only pre-requisite for the jocks was to be themselves and keep the production tight. 1972-73 was the year of the return of personality radio across the nation. KRCR worked along this line and came up with some pretty wild programs. The Wild World of Sports, although never really sinking into the permanent schedule, provided sarcastic commentary on sports, and other more dubious social "affairs" on campus. Who can forget the Jack Forsyth, Kevin Gallagher Stoned Hour? (or was it called the Kevin Gallagher-Jack Forsyth Stoned Hour?) Remember the continuing adventures of The Stoned Ranger and his faithful sidekick pronto, who had a strange Oriental accent and an incurable case of the munchies every night at 10 p.m.? Other two man shows provided variety on KRCR, like Pat Stinson and Mark Murray's dinner show, and Clancy and Dan's Jazz exposure hour. Larry Carolla's Solid Gold Rock and Roll lunch time review and Jim Shonsey's lunch-hour insanity made those cold hamburgers go down a bit easier (at least with a chuckle, maybe).

It was definitely a year of change for the better for KRCR, and with some hard work, the best is yet to come.

The Black Student Alliance is the cultural outlet for the Black Students on campus. It stresses the importance of Black History and Black Art. It believes that racial attitudes can only be changed through talking out the problems that exist due to the racism of America.

The belief of the members is that there exists a power base in communication. Communication instead of violence is where the answer to racism lies. The Alliance is always willing to talk or present a cultural presentation to any interested group.

Are you willing to sacrifice one or two days that could otherwise ruin your entire lives?

Minister of Culture, Edward Huey Jackson.

Do you want change?

The Black Student Alliance announced a meeting in the Fieldhouse at 11:00 AM, January 24. The student body filled the west stands and listened attentively as Flea Lunderman, Mike Battle, Huey Jackson, and other Black students spoke at the General Assembly. They went through a list of 23 requests which they had compiled. The audience then asked questions and commented on the request list. After meeting sessions with the Exec Board, Fr. Clarke, Mr. Lavin, and other students, the BSA presented their requests to the Board of Trustees. And then what happens?

Intramural Hockey had to be one of the wildest sports for students to participate in. There were basically four teams: The Fertile Crescent, The Italian Club, The Baracuda Tigers, and some rowdy freshman team. It was one of the most comical things to witness as guys fell over each other and slid around on more than just their skates. The Baracuda Tigers came out on top as they were only defeated once.

STUDENT SENATE ELECTIONS '73-'74

We, as individuals, have all been concerned about the problems the students face at Regis. We, as individuals, at one time or another have pooled our resources and energy with others to alleviate these problems. As we have recently seen, collectively we can successfully mobilize to face these problems with the proper leadership. But it would be quite presumptuous for us to assume that we are the only leaders. There is a myth around Regis that people feel that the student senate is immortal. The senate is not immortal; our power and effectiveness depends on you—it is not a God-given right to those who are elected. We need your leadership and your help for an effective student government.

Many questions have never been answered and many details have been overlooked concerning the handling of affairs at Regis. Now comes the time to question and review the state of affairs. We, the TNT party, would like the opportunity to do so.

We feel our party selection of seven different individuals will enable us to understand and encompass many facets of the Regis student body.

Friday, February 9th, will be a most important day for the Regis community. It is the day which you choose your student government. Lately, we've all been shown the need for a strong student government. That is why Grand Inquisition was formed, to offer you the student, a strong government that is not afraid to put its foot down. We are experienced and willing to create a student government which can provide the communication needed between ourself, administration and faculty. Questions from minor fees to big policy will be questioned by us. Just look at the Grand Inquisition Party—would you feel secure any other way?

Noranne Baron Secretary

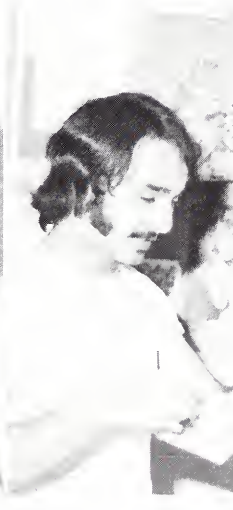

Bob Hayes Treasurer

Election Day was Feb. 9th and the results were already in by 4:00 p.m. Pat Cronan was the only member of the TNT party that made it as Skip Wrape's Grand Inquisition pulled a clean sweep, minus Skip. Each race was unbelievably close yet when the final vote was through everyone seemed pleased with the results. All those that ran promised help to the students regardless of winning or losing. The job Denny Lowe did as chairman of the election was highly commendable.

Get over there, Milligan and quit fooling around. Look you guys, this kid with the camera hasn't got all day. Will you shut up, Gabby! Costello, stop scratching for a couple minutes and Digman pay attention!

This year's soccer team under the guidance of Coach Stumpf went through growing pains. With many of the veterans not returning, much of the burden fell upon the shoulders of captains Chris Unland and Mark Digman and also the versatile Paul Milligan. With mostly a freshman and sophomore nucleus, the team had a very disappointing season, but managed to finish fifth in their tough conference. Highlights of the season were in the opening game win over Baptist Bible College by a score of 5-0 and a closely contested game against the kickers from the University of Wyoming. Leading scorers on the team were Paul Milligan with four goals and one assist and Chris Unland with four assists and one goal. Next year's team should benefit greatly from the experience they gained this year.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Intramural football at the Ranch proved bigger and better than ever in the history of the flags. With two leagues, each composed of seven teams, student participation was overwhelming. Under the exemplary direction of Commissioner Bob "Simba" Schmitz, the season turned out to be the most exciting for the pigskin fans and participants.

Joel guards flag from defender Vernon.

Something smells funny here

Owsley surprised everyone by running with the ball. He usually only got about five yards because it took him so long to get started and even then, Ciaccio would run back to the huddle saying he was wide open. Ahh yes, these were the Cypredemians.

Some thought this should be hanging in the Post Office, but it's a picture of the "No Names" as they await to run up the score against the Cypredemians.

FOOTBALL

The big guns in the 'A' League proved to be the Royal Suns and the No-Names respectively during league play. The Suns rolled over Che, The Cypredemians, Kool Blues, M.F.I.C., The Hootch, and squeaked by the No-Names in a 7 to 6 defensive battle. The No-Names, under the guidance of Terry Steinmetz, defeated everyone (except the Suns) by phenomenal margins. In the 'B' League, dominance prevailed under the names of The Denver Whappers and KOK. The Whappers took first with a 5-0-1 record, defeating all but the Brothers, who through a fantastic effort forced the Old 'I' Club to settle for a tie. Returning celebrities such as Darrell Lathrop, Billy Gold, and Glenn 'Rosso' Churchill, aided in putting the Whappers' name at the top of the 'B' League standings. As for the KOK, they did just what they said they would unlike the usual braggart freshmen teams.

This had to be the first big year for the Krabs. Under the direction of player-coach John Whitaker and the huddle calls of Chris Whitaker, these drunken seniors roared to a 4-2 league record. The Hootch, once again had an impressive year. Quarterback Bill Lysaught threw passes to Goz and ran the ball with blocking aid especially from Fred Daues. Also, with good defensive effort from Terry Ryan and Pete Martin, Hootch likewise finished with four wins, two losses. The Brothers looked deadly but fanned out toward the end of the season with a still decent record of 3-2-1. Worthy of honorable mention were both the Cypredemians and the Fertile Crescent as both teams rallied to a 3-3 finish. The trash teams were M.F.I.C., Che, Kool Blues, & Paranoia. The Tulsa Tops were considered league favorites because they always brought the beer. The playoffs and the championship game were pending.

Intramural powder puff football completed another successful season this fall with the merged Wild World-Krabettes team leading the pack. Unfortunately, due to early snowfall the season was cut short by one game. The freshman class fielded two teams, the Spreadables and the Royal Suns, that put on a good show but at times were highly overrated by their over confident coaches. The Skilly Mooches suffered through an apathetic season as often times they played with the same players going both ways—offense and defense. Wahoo once again played exciting and inspired football but without a win. Their spirit and enthusiasm toward the game is to be commended. The merger of Wild World of Sports and the Krabettes proved highly successful as the team, led primarily by veterans, went undefeated to win the championship. The final standings were as follows: 1st, Wild World-Krabettes; 2nd, Spreadables; 3rd, Royal Suns; 4th, Skilly Mooches; 5th, Wahoo. A special thanks to Commissioner Mary Pat Gauthier and all the refs who did a great job in putting it all together and running it.

The playoffs exemplified glorious wins for some and the agony of defeat for others. In the first playoff game, the No-Names upset the supple, well-engineered Krabs by a score of 48-28. Special recognition goes to Larry "Chugger" Worth, John Roselli, and Pat Stinson for excellent performance. The Hootch knocked off KOK, the most underrated team (these were the freshmen who said they could and did), in a blazing offensive battle. The No-Names struggled a little but arose triumphant in a tight game against the Denver Whappers. Final score was 25-12. The biggest surprise came on a cold Friday afternoon when the Hootch defeated the Royal Suns of AKPsi. The Suns remained stunned by the scrambling of Heismann trophy winner, Bill Lysaught and the hard hitting line play of Terry Ryan and Pete Martin. The Championship Game under the lights gave the coveted crown to the No-Names as they overpowered the hard-hitting Hootch by a score of 35 to 22. The Hootch had their work cut out for them as they were upset in the first half by a score of 20-0. They began to click but couldn't stop the versatile Flea Lunderman or the passing attack of Terry Steinmetz. Thus the season ended with the No-Names reigning as the 1972 Intramural Football Champions.

Under the direction of Commissioner Bob Simba Schmitz, Intramural Basketball took form with more than 20 teams. The Panthers expected to go all the way but got eliminated by the underrated Wahoo. Star playing goes to Mike and Pat Gleeson along with George Ciaccio of the Wahoo. The Panthers still managed to look tough with super shooting from Paul Smith and Buddy Murphy. Also hot on the boards were Larry Jackson and Paul Smith. The Royal Suns came into the season with most of their returning veterans, Simba, Jackson Keane, and excellent percentage shooter, Timmy McDonough. The pre-season favorites, the Jar of Ants (Old Krabs), went all the way to the playoffs but got too drunk to beat the KOK (Special recognition goes to Mark Henke for his performance). The final showdown ended up with the Untouchables (with stars such as Bob 'Gozzer' Gohsman and Lou Novembre) versus the Royal Suns. The Champions proved to be the Untouchables.

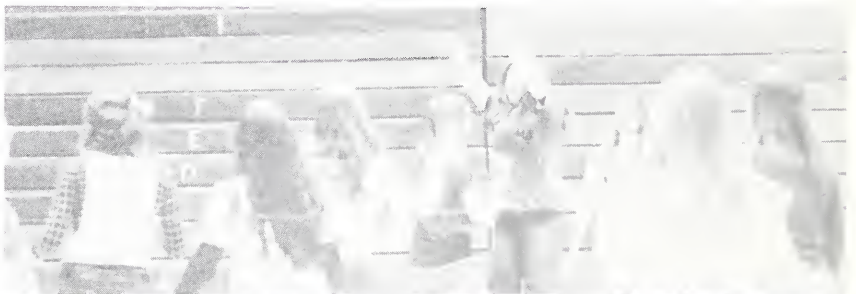

GIRL'S INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Don't touch that thing, it could go off. Girl's Intramural Basketball involved more students than ever in the history of the female netters. Made up of five teams, Ranch ladies tickled the strings of the hoops every other night FH-5 was available. The heavy hitters were to be found on the Wild World of Sports. With the height from Midge Miller and the dribbling and super shooting of Mary Pat Gauthier, the Wild World swept the conference. Recognition goes to Margi Homan of Wahoo, Beth Klaric of the Spreadables, Millie Murray and Nancy Sullivan of the No Names, Ann Chermak of the Royal Suns, and best ref (in both guys and girls' league) goes to Ann Donohoue.

See ball go, see girls watch.

THE REGIS SWIM TEAM

The 1972-73 Regis Swim Team brought swimming back to Regis. The main cause was the return of Coach Bill Shanley. Coach Shanley's team was invited to the NCAA's in the 70-71 season. This year he was assisted by Billy (Animal) Connoles, a Regis record holder. The team still suffers from a lack of depth as they win the events but not the meets with eight swimmers and a diver. Returning lettermen were breast-stroker Skip Wrape and freestyle sprinter Dan Heurter. The rest of the team is new blood, but the future looks good. Freshman swimmers Kevin McCauley, Doug Schaffer, and Mark Bonn have turned in impressive times. Sophomore Diver Tony Padon is gaining experience, and within two years Regis could have one of the Top College Swim Powers! Distance swimmers Larry Kogovsek and Dave Timm along with backstroker Jim Havel fill out the team. The conference meet held in March should show well in the Regis finishers.

L. to R.: Kevin McCauley, Dave Timm, Jim Havel, Skip Wrape, Doug Schaffer, Ass't Coach Bill Connoles, Dan Heurter, Tony Padon, Coach Bill Shanley, Larry Kogovsek.

Get the puck out of here!

The Regis Hockey Team was the hottest thing on ice since the Chicago Blackhawks. These self-supported students formed and built their own team last year and went unnoticed to many. This year was a different story however. The Ranch fans seemed to like the performance of their slap shooters as they began to flock in numbers to the Jeffco Arena. Up against big schools such as ACC and CSU, our compact pucksters went away with only one loss in the first semester and did equally well in second semester play. With no coach, each man learns to pull for his own. If it wasn't a slap shot from Mark Hatch, then it was excellent goaling by Gary Siegfried. If it wasn't Bill Everett on the power play then it was Dickie Delfava body checking the hell out of somebody.

Kluding! Get off the bench.

THE STALL NUMBER ONE AWARDS

THE "NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP" AWARD

With this award we have a tie! First of all, it goes to Bob 'Porky' Pfothenauer as he spent more hours in bed at college than most 60 year old men have in a lifetime. If you ever wanted anything from Porky, you just walked into his room and aroused him from hibernation before rigor mortis set in. The classic example of his bed-prone ways was the time when he asked Simba for a ski pole to turn off the TV set. He was just too tired to move three feet. We salute you Porky.

The second recipient of this award is Clem "Lazarus" Sullivan. Somehow Clem always lucked out in class scheduling as his earliest class was at 2:40 pm. Consequently, the rest of his day and night was spent in the rack, except of course, when he went on his daily jogging exercises.

Third, but not least, our last recipient is Ralph Dwyer. Ralph slept all of the first semester and then the beginning of the second semester but slowly began to arise from his slumberous state with the coming on of Intramural Baseball season. This, the bar, and the beach will be the only things that will keep Ralph awake.

Porky

Lazarus

Ralph

As a part of tradition, the Ranger Staff bestows upon certain members of the senior class these awards for excellence in certain different areas.

Rod Klassovity & Denny Lowe

THE "AC-DC" AWARD

This very questionable award goes to two equally questionable characters. What goes on when Rod drops off Jan and Denny drops off Jean? Could these fellows be switch hitters? AC-DC? Actually, we didn't have any other place to put this shot so we put this award winning picture in this award section.

Cathy Dixon

THE "BEST ACTRESS" AWARD

We, the members of the Regis Academy of the Pretending arts, hereby nominate Miss Catherine Dixon for Academy Award for best actress. This nomination is given in view of two major performances. The first was given on Dec. 13, 1972 in room 331 Carroll for an audience of twelve. This performance included beautiful impersonations of leading St. Louis aristocracy and a rendition of 'The Queen and her court.' The second was given on Jan. 23, 1973 in room 329 Carroll for the members of the academy and included a starring performance of "The do's and dont's of college administration." As there have been no other nominations put forward at this time, we ask that Miss Dixon be given her Oscar.

THE "MARCUS WELBY" AWARD

This award goes to four youthful med students who challenged themselves to perform one of the most devastating operations before a completely hushed crowd in the science amphitheatre. There wasn't a sound as Dr. Joe administered the anesthesia to the patient. There wasn't a peep out of the audience as Dr. Dave made the initial incision. There wasn't so much as a cough from the audience as Ricky and Simba recorded the data during this tense operation. There wasn't a sound, basically, because there was no one there except these four idiots who made a Big Deal out of one of the most senseless, wasted operations in the history of medicine.

Bob Simba Schmitz, Ricky Nikkel, Joe Volk, Dave Meiners

THE "SPIRITUAL AND MORAL ADVISOR" AWARD

Doc Connor

The only faculty member to receive a Stall #1 Award, Doc Connor, is presented the Spiritual and Moral Advisor Award through his guidance, leadership, and active involvement with the Ghetto affairs over the past three years. Way to go Doc!

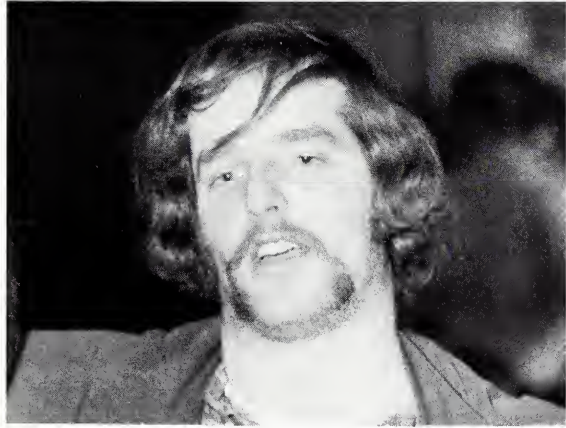

THE "SIS-BOOM-BAH" AWARD

Althea

The "Sis Boom Bah" Award goes to super spunky Althea Ratt-ray for her career in cheerleading. If anyone ever wanted to know if there was some basketball or baseball game, all one had to do is look around campus and see if Althea was wearing her Brown & Gold outfit. Her performance on the court was excelled only by her enthusiasm and dedication. Good going, Althea!

THE "LAST OF A DYING BREED" AWARD

The only Junior recipient, Chris Unland

For his unceasing effort to be as obnoxious, crude, loud, and offensive as possibly can, Chris Unland is awarded "The Last of the Dying Breed Award". Most of the students around Regis seem to have quieted down over the past four years, but there is always one last shining star like Chris Unland. He is notorious for representing what Regis must have been like ten years ago. We feel sorry for Chris because he is an endangered species—someday you might even find him on display at a local museum.

The Krabs

THE "BEN DOVER" AWARD

For their contribution to the Ranch in their four years, The Krabs receive the Ben Dover Award since they stand for the Ben Dover-like qualities of upstanding morality, gentlemanly behavior, and a reputable Christian attitude. The original Krabs are as follows: Larry 'Chugger' Worth, Tommy Balakas, Rod Klassovity, Billy Linden, John 'Rosey' Roselli, Ken 'Peaker' Peacock, Casual Don Martin, Pat 'Super' Ranker, Jeff Clayton, J.C. Connolly, John Whitaker (not pictured), and Terry Hainje.

Ben Dover

THE "USELESS AS MAMMARY GLANDS ON A BULL" AWARD

Kansas Komet

Jim 'Kansas Komet' Meurer proved to be the most deserving of this award since he proved to be the most useless student to ever attend Regis. As a class officer he wrote 'Komet Productions' on everyone else's productions. Whenever there was work to be done, Komet was not to be found. Whenever something had to be moved, Komet had a sore shoulder, arm, toenail or something. He always gave students that added boost to study, "Aw, blow it off!" Actually, we knew Komet wanted an award and we also knew that he didn't care if it was good or bad, it was the notoriety that counted. Here's your award, Komet.

THE "YEAH, I'M CASUAL" AWARD

This award is bestowed upon Don for his easy going attitude toward classes, college life, Jabberwocky, nonsense, etc. With his unending wisdom, temperament, complacency, and wit, Don has learned to take each day as it comes, that is, casually. Here's to you, Casual Don!

All right, this will only take a minute of your time so let's get organized. Posselius, don't hot dog it! Kiki and Kitty, can you face the camera? Moore, get your hand out of your pocket.

Why can't you all smile like Kiki? Come on! Ted, you're too far to the right. Let go of your belt, Steve, this isn't Rodhoppers magazine. Don't fall asleep, Kitty.

This is probably the best shot we're going to get so here they are, the Sophomore Class Officers: Kiki Gleeson, Vice-President; Steve Moore, Treasurer; Kitty Berigan, Secretary; and Ted Posselius, President.

THE '73 RANGER: DEDICATED TO
MY BROTHER JIM; JAN. 4, 1949—
MAY 17, 1967

HE WOULD HAVE LIKED IT.

Dear Readers,

What a long haul it has been to get to this page. So much has happened and so much had to be recorded. Everyone on the staff was faced with the mistrust of the students when we first started out. We had to convince the students that what we had planned was a traditional yearbook and not an uninformative photo manual.

Here is the '73 Ranger and its made up of a lot of hours of sweat and headaches. We tried to cover most of the events which took place (realize that in order to receive the book before summer vacation, it had to all be in before the third week of February). You might say that the book is too party oriented but I feel that the classroom is not the thing to capture in a yearbook. Students need not be reminded of the hours spent there. The moments after the books are stashed are the ones worth recording in our yearbook. We wanted you to be able to look back to the good times.

Certainly the job as editor isn't a one man job although it sometimes felt that way. A handful of key people made this product possible. I'll never forget the day last year when Fred Daues stormed into my room, chucked a copy of last year's Ranger on my bed, and asked if that's what I had in mind for the Ranger of 1973. I said no and that if he really wanted to change the book to come up and help me next year. That he did. He and Nancy Elsner (they always worked together) turned out to be two of the finest and most enjoyable helpers in the office. Their cheerful 'Cooking' attitudes kept the office atmosphere pleasant. I'd also like to thank photographers Tom 'Billy Goat' Conway, Mike Elrod, and Larry Pitoni. Without their pictures, the book would not have been possible. As for Kasey Cermak, an editor couldn't find a better copy writer. She always seemed to give each event an added flair with her style. I would also like to thank Diane Wolfe as she worked through my beautiful language to produce the layouts for the grueling underclassmen section. My most special thanks go to Tom Tully and Larry Heinz. Here are a couple of real flies and yet fantastic workers who learned early to put up with my constant bitching. Tully was always there when you needed him most. He pulled it through the late hours every deadline night with myself and Heinz. Larry Heinz proved to be the most helpful worker on the whole staff. He put in numerous hours of shooting, developing, and printing with little thanks. By looking at all the pictures in the book, you can look to Larry Heinz as the man responsible for most of them. Thanks again Larry.

Last but not least I would like to thank Jack Keane (our bookkeeper) as he made those Friday nights in the office worthwhile even though the pages looked different on Saturday.

To anyone else who helped in any way in getting the '73 Ranger out, my thanks to you. No yearbook is perfect. All we can do is the best we can. That we did. Hopefully you will appreciate it.

Sincerely,

John F. Sauer
